

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXXVI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1908.

NO. 12.

HIGHLAND.

Mrs. Lena Butt is considerably improved. Mrs. E. J. Mills was quite sick this week.

John Bastin sold his home and lot of 10 acres to Rev. J. M. Cook for Rev. Henry Mills for $200.

Some of the farmers begin to think they will not get to put in their crops on account of so much rain.

Eugene Hutchison has rented his farm to Mrs. Harve Watts, and he has taken possession of his father's farm.

Thos. Hutchison, of Somerset, was here last week to bid his uncle's family good-bye. Mrs. C. M. Young has gone to Science Hill and Somerset in the interest of the new Methodist church here.

Mrs. Jane Herzog is visiting Mrs. Mary Baugh. Mr. Jeff. Hale has moved to his new residence while Mr. H. Hatfield has taken possession of Hale's late residence. Mart Surber has moved back from Burnside.

Mr. Put Warfield, of Casey, has moved to the B. Spires place. Abel James has moved to the Haughman farm near Butt's store. Lark Vanhook has moved back from Somerset. The Gastineau Bros., of Garrard county, have bought a piece of land of Mr. H. Hatfield and are putting up a house on it for Mrs. Flora Walls, widow of H. H. Walls.

The writer with W. G. Acton and Misses Muriel Acton and Effie Young, of this place, and the Misses Brown, of Pleasant Point, and Miss Bertha Thompson, of Kingsville, attended the funeral of Ezra Estes at Good Hope church near Woodstock, Pulaski county, where in the absence of a minister the funeral services were conducted by a young Mr. Colson and Mr. McWhedon. This was the old home of Mr. Estes, who was only 19 years of age and had been battling with the dread disease, consumption, for a year or more, having just returned from a four month's stay in Arizona, only two weeks before his death. The house was crowded to overflowing with schoolmates and a more impressive funeral the writer never saw before. To the sorrowing relatives we say weep not as those who weep without hope, but live so as to meet Ezra in that Heavenly city.

A Party Calamity.

Samuel L. Roberts, editor of the leading Republican paper in the State, the Lexington Leader, says:

The election of Gov. Bradley to the United States Senate by an unholy alliance was accomplished by the sacrifice of every hope of securing non-partisan registration, election and redistricting laws, and by the practical repudiation of the Republican platform declaration in favor of a uniform county unit bill, and it has wrecked Gov. Willson's administration so far as constructive political legislation is concerned, and opened the way for the rehabilitation of Gov. Beckham on a temperance platform.

The United States Senatorship was not worth the price the Republicans of Kentucky paid for it, and we believe the day will come when the election of Senator Bradley will be looked upon as a party calamity.

A Twenty Year Sentence.

"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes O. S. Woolever, of LeMayville, N. Y. Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c. at Penny's Drug Store.

PEYTON.

My fine mule jack, will make the present season at Moreland, Ky., at $8 to insure a living colt. He is a sure foot getter and I consider him an extra good mule jack. His mules round up, when matured, right at 16 hands high. Also fine black jack.

TURNER.

with white points, 15 hands, 1 inch, will be permitted to serve mares at $5 to insure a living colt. See his colts on my farm, they are extra good. I have two young jacks, matured and ready that will serve a few mares gratis.

My Wilkes horse, Independence Chief, will serve a limited number of mares at $8 to insure a living colt. Independence Chief's 1st dam by Gambetta Wilkes with five producing dams and sired by Ocellian Chief. B. B. KINIG, Moreland, Ky.

Commissioner's Sale!
Lincoln Circuit Court.

In obedience to a judgment of the Lincoln Circuit Court, rendered at the special March term, 1908, in the action of R. C. Warren's Adm'r. dec. against R. C. Warren's heirs, etc., the undersigned Commissioner will at 2 o'clock P. M. on Monday, APRIL 20th, 1908, in front of the Court House door in Stanford, Ky., sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder the tract of about 11 1/2 acres of land on Danville street in Stanford, Lincoln county. Bounded on the North by the land of Mrs. Julia M. Sims, on the East by the land of W. T. Stone, on the South by the lands of J. N. Saunders, Helm heirs, and Mahony, and on the West by the Stanford & Danville turnpike. The object of the sale is to satisfy the indebtedness of R. C. Warren, amounting to $1,000, and the costs of this proceeding.

TERMS: The sale will be made on a credit of six months. The purchaser will be required to execute bond for purchase price with good security, payable to the Com'r, bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid, having the force and effect of a judgment and also secured by lien on the land. The purchaser will get R. C. Warren's interest in wheat crop growing on land.

GEORGE B. SAUFLEY, M. C. L. C. C.

GEORGE O. BARNES.

The death of the Rev. Gedrg O. Barnes removed a figure which some years ago attracted a great deal of attention in Kentucky and many other States and countries. Opinion was much divided with reference to him, but little doubt was ever entertained as to his sincerity, and the labors that he performed were stupendous. His last years were passed in comparative obscurity so far as his native State is concerned, and it is probable that the infirmities of age restrained the restless activity which so long characterized him.

Mr. Barnes began life as a regular minister of the Presbyterian church. His work as a missionary in India was not marked so far as is known by any departure from the standard of his church. While stationed at Stanford, after the war, he began to give utterances to certain doctrines which were not in accord with the teachings of the church. Efforts were made to get him to withhold their utterance, but after a time he broke with the church entirely, and set up as a free lance. His first protracted meeting was an evangelist after leaving the church was at Lebanon, in December, 1876, and he attracted great attention by the fervor of his utterances. Afterward he held meetings at a number of other points, and in all of them he made a decided impression, and the number of people who professed communion under his ministrations was very large. His powers as a public speaker were extraordinary.

So far as orthodoxy, according to the symbols of any church is concerned, Mr. Barnes made little pretension to it. He was reported from time to time to have given his adherence to the systems of various teachers, mostly men outside of the regular communions, though some of these reports may have been incorrect. It was not possible, however, for his admirers to follow him in any connected system of theology, for he changed his position from time to time. There were many, however, who believed in the man, and who were always eager to hear him, no matter what brand of theology he was understood to favor.

Among the ideas of Mr. Barnes was that of the faith cure and his home at Stanford, known as the "Pink Cottage," was long the resort of people seeking relief from a variety of diseases. In process of time this was given up. Whether Mr. Barnes changed his opinions on this subject or not, it is certain that the faith cure attracted less attention in his later ministrations. His converts connected themselves with various churches, and some of them with none at all. It is impossible to say what proportion of them remained true to the professions which they made during his meetings.

While he will be remembered as a peculiar force in the religious world, the want of continuity in his teachings will prevent his passing into history either as the founder of a sect or as a champion of any particular doctrine, beyond his statement that "God is Love," a teaching by no means peculiar to him. Nevertheless he will long be remembered as a pulpit orator of peculiar eloquence and power.—Courier Journal.

Weak women get prompt and lasting help by using Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. These soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories, with full information how to proceed are interestingly told in my book "No. 4 For Women." The book and strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Simply write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for my book No. 4. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

The resignation of Supt. Collins, of the Anti-Saloon League, ought to be followed by that of another of its officers, one G. W. Young. They are in a large measure responsible for the election of the Republican ticket and the subsequent slaughter of the county unit bill. They are a sorry pair and should have been made to go, if not of their own accord.—Frankfort Journal.

Mr. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." Foley's Kidney Cure works wonders where others are total failures. Penny's Drug Store.

Senator Foraker, in a speech before the Baltimore A. M. E. Conference in Washington, declared his opposition to a lily white Republican party, and said new parties would be organized if the rights of the colored voter were not considered. The question, he said, would be settled at the Chicago Convention.

The W. J. Frazier Company's distillery, near Versailles was destroyed by fire.

NEWS NOTES.

The Olive-street Bank in St. Louis, has closed its doors.

W. E. Castle, of Louisville, was elected president of the Millers' National Federation in convention in Chicago.

Dr. John D. Jordan, a noted Baptist preacher of Atlanta, is dead. He originally lived at Russellville, this State.

Rear Admiral Evans' physicians say he is suffering from complications which will make his permanent recovery very slow.

Charles Henry Parker, 92 years of age, and the oldest Harvard alumnus, died at his home in Boston. He was a member of the class of 1833.

Dr. George W. Griffiths, one of Louisville's most distinguished citizens, and one of the leading surgeons of Kentucky and the South, is dead.

Dr. David Kellar, one of the best-known physicians in Central Kentucky, died at his home in Lexington. He was a surgeon in the Confederate army.

Dillard Fielder, one of the best known and most respected citizens of Madison county, died in Louisville, where he had gone to undergo an operation for cancer.

The president and vice president of the Neal Bank at Atlanta were indicted on a charge of lending more than 25 per cent. of the capital stock to a concern in which they were interested.

The monument erected by the State of Minnesota in the National Park at Shiloh to the memory of the Minnesota soldiers who fell on that battlefield was dedicated Friday. Gov. Johnson made a stirring address.

A New York anarchist has written President Roosevelt protesting against the action of the New York police in breaking up a meeting. He contends that it was an interference with the right of free speech.

Col. William De Lacey, a prominent lawyer and Civil War veteran, committed suicide at New York, leaving a note in which he said he killed himself deliberately and after long consideration, believing life to be a game of which he was tired.

Leo C. Thurman, of West Point, Ky., was hanged at Norfolk, Va., Friday for the murder on February 1, 1906, of Walter P. Dolson, of Michigan, his roommate, whose body he packed in a trunk and then fled, being captured 18 months later at Vancouver, B. C.

Following the failure of the Senate to pass the anti-racetrack gambling bills, Gov. Hughes sent to the New York Legislature a message renewing his recommendation for the enactment of this legislation and asking for the enactment of eight other propositions now pending.

The Fiscal Court of Shelby county has decided to submit to the voters of the county a proposition to issue $100,000 of bonds for the erection of a new courthouse to replace the present building, which has been in use many years. The Fiscal Court also appropriated $25,000 toward the repair of the roads.

Seven men were arrested at Murray on warrants charging them with being night riders, the specific allegation being "banding and confederating to injure others." The arrests were made by the State troops now in charge of the situation at Murray, and a change has been made in the attitude of the citizens toward the soldiers, who are now looked on with favor.

The languid, lifeless feeling that comes with Spring and early Summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of Winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oft-times weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

The General Council at Hopkinsville has revoked the franchise of the Cumberland Telephone Co., which claims its rights under an old franchise granted the East Tennessee Telephone Co. Long litigation is expected to follow.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Penny's Drug Store, 50c.

The Horse Show.

Mortal man never saw a better lot of horses than were exhibited at the annual horse show yesterday. They were here from 300-pound Shetlands to 1,600-pound Percherons and all were good ones. Space forbids a lengthy mention but we hope we do not miss any in this summary:

H. W. Curry, of Eaton, O., showed a 1,600 pound Percheron.

A. G. T. Smith showed a two-year-old by Goldbond which was well liked.

R. E. Goddard, of Mercer, had the grand old stallion, Red Leaf, on hand.

Doc Gray, Hugh Reid Foster's Shetland, was very popular with the women and children.

Moreland Chief, the property of Howard VanArsdale, was greatly liked by the horse lovers.

T. B. Walker had on exhibition Rex Arbuckle, a fast-stepping, high acting black, of good breeding.

A. T. Traylor showed his black stallion, Stonewall Jackson, Jr., and won additional friends for him.

Powhatan, by Dignity Dare, a splendid animal of great promise is owned and was shown by L. B. Owens.

F. Reid did not have Dorsey Gold-dust here but he showed General Simmons, a splendid harness stallion.

Peñce, Jr., John Z. Spoonamore's 16-hand son of Old Peñce, made a good impression and won friends for himself.

Grant Monical, 2:24, by Gambetta Wilkes, owned by R. G. Evans and L. K. Rogers, of Danville, won much praise.

The only thoroughbred present was Santon, W. P. Givens' fine horse. He was a great racer and is proving a fine breeder.

J. M. Pettus' Beau Naboth was one of the popular horses shown. He is by Old Naboth, dam by Norval. See about him elsewhere.

M. S. Baughman gave the crowd a chance to look at a first-class jack in Choice Goods, the champion jack of Tennessee last year.

Dishon & Smith's Ante Carlo was conspicuous for his absence. The old fellow is a stepper and he made the other horses go here last year.

The Warfield, the magnificent trotting-bred stallion of S. M. Owens, a good individual and a royally bred horse. His colts show what he can do.

C. C. Carpenter made a good show with Prospect, the handsome son of Dignity Dare. This magnificent horse promises to rival his sire as a breeder.

Dr. G. G. Perry's Don Varriek was in good condition and was well liked by the large crowd. He is a richly bred stallion as his pedigree elsewhere will show.

R. S. Scudder had two good ones in Chester S. and Chester Peavine. The latter is a young horse of great style and action and ought to be a great breeder.

J. R. Beazley showed his three stallions, Lincoln Squirrel, Happy Brummel and Red Light, all good individuals of fine breeding. See their pedigrees this issue.

Dignity Dare, D. S. Carpenter's great sire, attracted a great deal of attention and was much admired. He behaved himself well and looked pretty as a picture.

Ashland Brook and King Eagle, owned by S. T. Harris and R. B. Woods. The former a splendidly bred trotter and the latter a saddle bred stallion of the first water.

J. C. Bailey had the grand old stallion, Preston, in fine condition and he was greatly admired. W. O. Walker's two-year-old stud by Preston, was also shown and he attracted a great deal of attention.

Almont Dare, which horse has just been registered, was well shown by Mr. Smith T. Powell. A fall colt by him and owned by W. H. Murphy was also exhibited. Read in this issue Almont Dare's breeding.

Death Was On His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the Spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at Penny's Drug Store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Ike S. Knight, a well-known citizen of North Fort Worth, Tex., armed with a double-barrel shotgun, ran amuck, and as a result one man is dead and two others are probably fatally wounded.
